Announce Old Time Music Joust For 24th

Invite Musicians to Enter Championship Playing Match

Hip, hip, hurrray, folks, here's news! The Times-Virginian announces that on Friday night, June 24, it will sponsor an "Old Time Music Carnival" to be held in the auditorium at Appomattox at 8 P. M.

The general public is invited to attend and there will be no admission charges.

Anyone in Appomattox or Buckingham county is eligible to enter the contest, either as an individual or as groups. An effort will be made to get all the favorite "fiddlers", banjo players, string music specialists, etc, in these two counties to enter.

A committee of judges will be announced next week and they will be impartial and qualified to select t h e "champion musicians" of this section.

All those wishing to enter this contest, the first of its kind ever held in this section, must notify the Times-Virginian by Wednesday, June 22, at noon. No "dark horses" can enter at the last moment. Contestants will be limited to instrumental music, unless there is sufficient demand for vocal quartets.

The Times-Virginian is sponsoring this contest to provide genuine entertainment of high order to the people of this section. Although no admission price is to be charged, a silver offering will be taken at the door to be divided among the musicians.

One of the largest crowds ever to attend an event here is expected to fill the auditorium to overflowing to enjoy real "old-time music. Old favorites, "Golden Slippers," Red Wing," and countless others, famous since Joe Sweeney, will be heard. If you have favorite selections you want played that night, write in to us and we'll see that some of the contestants play them. Come on, everybody, let's get set for a great night, Friday, June 24.

Report Short In Sign-Up Drive Of Association

Flood Says "Non-Signers Now Have the Balance Of Power"

With the fourteen counties growing dark-fired tobacco represented at Farmville last Saturday, a total of 68% of the acreage was reported signed with the proposed Dark-Fired Growers' Association.

Since it has been declared that no organization would be attempted without a 75% sign-up, the drive to secure signed contracts was extended to June 25, when the final meeting will be held. A number of speakers addressed the farmers and their representives present, and it was universally agreed that unless a 75% sign up could be obtained by June 25, all the plans would be abandoned.

Speaking of the meeting in Farmville Saturday, J. W. Flood, who attended, said, "The balance of power is now in the hands of the non-signers. It is up to them whether or not we have an association." C. T. Moses, campaign chairman for Appomattox, declared that the move for contracts would be pushed with vigor in an effort to put over the necessary 75%.

Both Appomattox and Buckingham county were among the leaders in acreage signed up with the association. Appomattox had over 2,6000 acres signed, and about 800 contracts, said to be an 80% coverage.

Buckingham In Tribute To Vets

Two Civil War Veterans Are Honored In Buckingham

Buckingham, June 1 — The Buckingham chapter U. D. C. gave a picnic for the old soldiers on the site of Lee's last camping ground near Buckingham Court House ,Thursday. All members of the chapter who attended brought a basket lunch which was served picnic style and much enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. Neil, of Richmond and their guests, Mrs. Kirkpatrick and daughters, Miss Ray Kirkpatrick, of New Orleans, were the only ones from a distance. Mr. Neil represented the state highway department and thought the idea of having this spot a Confederate park in line with the park at Appomattox a fine plan. John Tribble, of Dillwyn and George Tapscott, of Scottsville, were the only veterans present, the latter giving a short talk. A committee composed of Colonel Alma Pearson, Mrs. Carry Hubard, Mrs. Forest Guthrie and H. E. Griffin were appointed to interview Mrs. Molly Piel, who lives near and owns the land adjoining the marker site, in regard to buying the property to be turned into a Confederate Park, to be kept up by the state in connection with the Appomattox park.

Laud Spirit Of Veterans Here Memorial Day

Vets of Civil War are Special Guests at Annual Program

"It is your heritage to protect this sacred spot where Robert E. Lee and his brave soldiers won the victory of a permanent peace for a greater union," declared Charles Evant Hunter, of Roanoke, before a large Memorial Day assemblage here at the Confederate cemetery Monday afternoon.

Mr. Hunter lauded the part in American history played by the veterans of the nation's wars and declared that the principles for which they fought had not perished.

James Henry Heron, of Chicago, poet and traveler, captivated the audience with one of his poems, "Carry Me Back To Thee." He also spoke eloquently of the respect with which Virginians are held all over the nation and added, "There is no more hallowed spot in America than Appomattox, for here a new and greater nation was born."

Veterans of the Civil War were present as guests of honor. Veterans present were: G. T. Marsh, 91; D. P. Ferguson, 88; Samuel Moses Ransom, 87; C. H. Coleman, 88; C. W. Cardwell, 84; George W. Cheatham, 85; C. C. Ferguson, 93; R. E. Caldwell, 87; R. D. Whittaker, 85. C. A. Truax, veteran of Federal service after the Civil War and now 71, was also honored.

These veterans swapped yarns of 1851-65 and agreed to a man that they would all make the trip to Richmond in July to attend the reunion. Following the program, they grouped together and invited Mr. Hunter and others to accompany them as their escort.

Mrs. Carrie Willis, of Fredericksburg, addressed the audience and told of unusual adventures and deedsof bravery from the pages of Virginia history. Mrs. Willis is a gifted historian and author of Confederate and Virginia lore.

Name 48 Delegates To Convention June 9th

ENDORSED HERE

Harry Flood Byrd, of Winchester, former governor, received Appomattox's 12 votes at Democratic mass meeting here yesterday.

Endorses Byrd, Ferguson Terrell and County Officials At Mass Meeting

Featured by a ringing endorsement of former governor Harry Flood Byrd for the Democratic presidential nomination, and the mention of Senator Jamuel L. Ferguson as an ideal candidate for the governorship of Virginia, Democrats of Appomattox county met here yesterday afternoon in annual mass meeting.

Called to order by chairman Don Moses, the Democrats lost no time in getting down to business. Mr. Moses and C. W. Smith, secretary, were made permanent officers. C. W. Smith introduced a motion as regards methods of selection of county delegates to the state convention and a committee was named to present a list of nominations.

Senator Ferguson was recognized and read a resolution endorsing Byrd for the presidency. The resolution was unanimously adopted. Resolutions were then presented commending the administration of Governor Pollard, the record of Senator Ferguson, of delegate A. J. Ferrell, of the United States senators and representives of Virginia, and of the county officials of Appomattox.

J. A. Burke added an amendment to the resolution lauding Senator Ferguson, to commend him to the Democrats of Virginia as the ideal candidate for the governorship. Applause greeted this amendment and it was adopted by a standing vote.

J. C. Cawthorn, Jr., added an amendment to the resolution commending the county officers to include the splendid service of Judge Robert Hutchinson.

The delegation to the state convention will consist of forty-eight, with one-fourth of a vote each. They will vote as a unit. R. L. Burke was named chairman of the delegation, with Don Moses as assistant. The state convention meets June 9, in the Mosque, Richmond.

The list of delegates follows: S. L. Ferguson, J. W. Flood, R. L. Burke, H. W. McKinney, J. H. O'Brien, C. W. Smith, J. A. Burke, W. M. Abbitt, S. L. Ferguson, Jr., C. S. McDearmon, J. R. Hornley, Calvin H. Robinson, Joseph Button, A. F. Ferguson, W. L. Brown, W. T. Steele, N. R. Featherston, E. LeRoy Smith, G. F. Robertson, H. C. Pulliam, T. J. Ligon, J. A. Bingham, C. T. Moses R. F. Patterson, J. H. Clement, Ryland M. Mann, F. T. Guill, R. Alfred O'Brien, J. W. Cawthorn, Jr., J. W. Carter, J. D. Ferguson, D. A. Conner, R. H. Thornhill, Dr. D. A. Christian, W. W. Carter, J. W. Johnson, E. F. B. Steele, W. W. Scott, Don Moses, M. H. Marks, Miss M. Anna Jones, Mrs. Ned A. Wagers, Miss Eula May Burke, Miss Cornelia K. Gills, Mrs. Frank Dresser, Miss Earle Patteson, Mrs. Anna F. Flood, Miss M. Virginia Smith.

The resolutions endorsing Byrd, follow:

"We, the Democrats of the county of Appomattox, in mass meeting assembled, embrace this occasion to voice our unit ed endorsement of Hon. Harry Flood Byrd, former Governor of Virginia, as standard bearer of the Democratic paty in the approaching national presidential election, —To this end we offer the following resolutions:

"Whereas, rarely before in the history of the nation has the American people faced a crisis so grave in its every aspect as that which confronts the country today, and,

"Whereas, in the public judgement the present situation both as regards unemployment and business depression, is a direct result of lack of leadership and governmental mismanagement at the national capital, and,

"Whereas, the nation demands a change in administration in order that confidence may be restored and economic conditions readjusted, now, therefore be it

"Resolved, That in the person of former Governor Harry Flood Byrd, of Virginia, will be found a leader of such out-
